Victoria and Vancouver industry, with the exception of some plants engaged in war contracts, will shut down Armistice Day, Nov. 11, according to present plans.

All schools, retail stores, manufacturing plants and provincial offices will close for the day, which the provincial government has proclaimed a holiday.

Refuse to Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A strong army guard and a double barbed wire fence kept 15,000 recalcitrant Japanese under control at the Tule Lake segregation centre today while volunteers from other centres were mustered to harvest large crops.

The internees were "passively refusing to work," but that "no sign of violence has appeared and none is expected," officials said.

1,200,086 Germans Lost in Air Raids

LONDON (CP)—An Exchange Telegraph Agency dispatch from Zurich today said 1,200,086 German civilians were killed or reported missing in Allied air raids from the start of the war to Oct. 1. The agency said the figure was obtained from a member of the government statistics office in Berlin.

The number bombed out or evacuated because of raid danger was said to be 6,953,000.

(In Britain from the beginning of the war to the end of September, 1943, there were 48,282 civilians killed and 61,192 injured in air raids.)

Quebec Pro-Canada

EDMONTON (CP)—G. Pelletier of Montreal, director of the French paper Le Devoir, told delegates to the French-Canadian Association of Alberta here today that "separatism does not exist except in the minds of a very few young men under 21 years of age, in Quebec."

"There is no separatism in Quebec, no entire British; we are Pro-Canadians," he declared. Quebec wants to co-operate as a partner with the rest of Canada, he added.

Canadian, British Paratroops Merge

LONDON (CP)—It was learned today the Canadian parachute unit in Britain has been merged with a British parachute division and is preparing for action with it.

Training with Britons presumably means it will fight as part of the British formation similar to the way the Canadian 1st Division joined the British 8th Army in Sicily and continued with Gen. Montgomery in Italy. The knowledge added further to speculation whether any plans to keep the Canadians as an entity are definitely finished.

(Employment of the Canadian parachute unit in Britain with a British air-borne division is a matter for Canadian military authorities overseas, it was stated this afternoon at defence headquarters in Ottawa.)

Russians Driving Into Flanks Of Fleeing Nazis In Dnieper Bend

Russian gains since the beginning of the battle of the Dnieper are indicated as shaded areas.

MOSCOW (AP)—Russian tank units and strong advanced infantry forces pouring into the desert steppe west of Melitopol today have seized all the little roads criss-crossing the area and are moving rapidly into the flanks of the fleeing Germans.

One column was moving south from Akimovka, 14 miles south of Melitopol along the railroad to the Crimea, which was within striking distance.

Another group was just south of Nikopol, moving up to meet another force moving southwestward on the town within the Dnieper River elbow.

The break-through between Zaporozhe and the Sea of Azov has recaptured upwards of 300 square miles south of the Dnieper and there is only a shred of German line falling back toward the Crimea in the south and toward Kherson in the west.

The Russians in this area were hourly nearing the Perkeop-Kherson railway, the only remaining line out of the Crimea. This line leads to Nikolaev, just west of Kherson.

Fall of Krivoi Rog Expected Hourly

LONDON (CP)—Soviet armies blasting westward along a 150-mile-long front today threatened the encirclement of still powerful but disorganized German forces in a slowly closing pocket below Dnepropetrovsk in southern Russia.

Fall of strongly defended Krivoi Rog, iron ore and rail centre reported flanked on three sides by Red Army troops, was believed to be but a matter of hours.

Capture of Krivoi Rog would enable the Russians to turn the northern army of their pincers in a southerly direction to close with the opposite arm pushing northwestward from the Melitopol sector.

The Germans were in slow but steady retreat along the entire southern front, according to a Moscow communique.

Algiers Blackout Ends

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Organization of a "skin bank" at the Eastern State Penitentiary was announced today by Dr. Herbert M. Goddard, chairman of the penitentiary's board of trustees. He said 50 long-term convicts have been typed and are ready to make donations of skin wherever they are needed.

"Somebody yelled 'Fighters' through the R.T. and the Mossy on my starboard wing fell in flames," said Hull. "Amid a hail of bullets the Mossies scattered as the pilots tramped on the gas. They skidded around the trees and left the F.W.'s standing still.

"The boys couldn't stay and fight; they had nothing to fight with. The speed of the Mossy bombers is more than adequate."

Over 40,000 Here Expected to Get Liquor Coupons

Queues formed Wednesday and again today for liquor coupons at the Liquor Control Board's new office at 919 Government Street.

Half a dozen women worked at top speed until 8 p.m. Wednesday issuing the first batch of coupons, good for one 26-oz. bottle of spirits or three dozen beer in November and possibly the double quota in December.

The new store is open from noon until 8 p.m. This morning, however, dozens of people went to the store, but couldn't get in and returned at noon.

Hours for the new store have not been definitely fixed. It will remain open until 8 p.m. each day this week so working men and women may be accommodated.

To get coupons a person must have his liquor permit and national registration card. He signs a receipt for the coupons, leaves it at the store and departs with two coupons, which later he will present at a liquor store for his purchase. He is warned that if these are lost or destroyed they will not, under any consideration, be replaced.

People who have lent their liquor permits to clubs are getting them back this week, in order to get their coupons and present them to the club managers, so that liquor may be purchased.

It is estimated between 40,000 and 60,000 permit holders will apply to the Government Street office within the next two weeks for their liquor coupons.

Queues are also forming in Vancouver coupon stores, so that permit holders may be able to get their first 26-oz. bottle, as one month's ration, since early in the summer.

'So Far So Good' Atmosphere Rules Moscow Meeting

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden, State Secretary Cordell Hull and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov began the 10th session of the three-power conference today amid reports that some of the most important questions have been settled in an atmosphere of "so far so good."

British, U.S. and Russian technical experts put into written form agreements already reached.

Premier Stalin continued to keep in close contact with the discussions, as indicated in a Moscow broadcast recorded in London that a British delegation headed by Secretary Eden had conferred with the Russian premier again Wednesday.

Foreign correspondents had their first view Wednesday of the Victorian-Gothic palace where the historic conferences are under way.

The conference room is dominated by a table fully 12 feet in diameter, with a centrepiece of British and U.S. and Russian flags pointing to the seats of the main delegates.

One night over Berlin he was "coned" for two and a half minutes. No flak followed and the fighters in the area made no attack.

What impressed him most during his tour was the flames and smoke of Hamburg, rising majestically upward like a crimson curtain.

Defence Can't Kill Evidence Of de Marigny's Fingerprints

WITNESSES FOR THE CROWN—Two of the guests at the Oakes mansion in Nassau on the night before Sir Harry Oakes was slain were Charles Hubbard and Mrs. Babs Dulcibel Effie Renegade, above. They have been called as witnesses by the prosecution in the trial of Alfred de Marigny.

By E. V. W. JONES

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Alfred de Marigny's attorneys failed today to knock out fingerprint evidence introduced in an effort to convict him of the murder of Sir Harry Oakes.

But Godfrey S. Higgs, chief defence counsel, replied in the Bahamas Supreme Court that no one could point to the exact spot on a bed screen from which the disputed print was "lifted."

In a ruling said by attorneys to establish an Empire-wide precedent for British courts, Chief Justice Sir Oscar Bedford Daly admitted into evidence a raised print—one which is transferred to adhesive rubber from the surface where it is found.

It is up to the jury, he said in effect, to decide whether a detective from Florida, Capt. James O. Barker, actually found De Marigny's fingerprints on the screen—which witnesses have testified stood in Sir Harry's bedroom the night he was beaten and burned to death.

Higgs had thrown De Marigny's trial into confusion by insisting there are no marks on the screen now, and that the evidence is inadmissible because there is only Barker's uncorroborated word to support it.

FROM NEW ANGLE

Once the Chief Justice had ruled, however, Higgs leaped to the attack from a new angle.

From Barker he drew the admission the print in evidence had not come from an area previously marked on the bed screen, Barker said he could say definitely only that the print had come from the top of one of the panels.

Higgs attacked the qualifications of Barker as an expert, bringing out that the officer had served only five months as a clerk in the Miami identification bureau before he was named superintendent.

RAISED TWO PRINTS

Barker explained he had "raised" two prints onto adhesive rubber. One, which he said was an impression of De Marigny's little right finger, was offered in evidence because it was plainer than an earlier print which the Miami officer said was left by De Marigny's left little finger.

There was much detailed talk for the record. Barker explained both prints were lifted July 9—the day after Sir Harry's beaten and burned body was found in a bedroom of his seaside estate, Westbourne.

One was processed at Nassau the same day and identified, he testified. The other, processed July 19 at Miami, was found to be a better print, and therefore was offered.

Higgs opened his cross-examination, and quickly concentrated on the question of the exact spot on the screen from which the print was lifted.

The screen was opened to show one panel where a blue pencilled area had been marked in magistrate's court to designate the fingerprint spot.

"I cannot definitely say," Barker testified, "that the right print came from the part marked on the panel with the blue pencil."

CAUSES FUROR

"But I can say that it came from the top of the panel," Barker caused a momentary furor by saying: "I wish to inform the court the blue, line I

5th Drives Hole In German Line At Raviscanina

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS (AP)—Anglo-American troops stabbing high up the valley of the upper Volturno River have driven a deep salient into the enemy's lines northwest of Raviscanina, while 8th Army engineers threw bridges across the Trigno River under heavy shellfire, Allied headquarters announced today.

Enemy resistance was reported along the entire front as the two Allied armies punched doggedly forward over rough countryside, moving down one strong outpost after another and approaching the new German main lines.

At the Adriatic end of the front, Gen. Montgomery's headquarters announced his troops had firmly secured a bridgehead over the Trigno River despite sharp and continuous enemy fighting.

In the face of what was officially termed "extremely accurate" artillery bombardment, 8th Army engineers continued "to throw new bridges across the stream."

Artillery fire also was intense to the southwest on the 8th Army front, where 8th Army units in a four-mile drive from the last previously announced positions captured the town of Torrella del Sannio, nine miles northwest of Campobasso. It is in this general area, on the left of the 8th Army's front, in the Apennine "backbone" country, that the Canadian 1st Division is reported operating.

British troops near the Adriatic end of the front took Mafalda, seven miles southwest of Montefalcone and near the southeast bank of the Trigno.

Berlin Broadcasts Retreat By Nazis

(The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded in London by Reuters, said that Montefalcone, along with Torrella del Sannio and Montemitro, had been abandoned by the Germans.)

The town of Castelmauro, six miles southwest of Palata, was taken by 8th Army units after a small-scale but bitter battle in which British troops advanced a mile and a half beyond their former line.

Still farther south the Germans employed harassing tactics against advance forces penetrating beyond Boiano along the vital main inland road toward Isernia.

The enemy used both medium and field artillery to hinder the thrust of the Anglo-American troops in the central and right sectors of the 5th Army front.

Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark's troops, however, attacked and drove the Germans from more important high ground along broad slopes of the Volturno and widened the base of their salient by taking Riardo, nine miles southwest of Raviscanina and 11 miles northwest of Capua.

New Enemy Line Reinforced

Now withdrawn to the Mondragone-Vasto mountain line, the Nazi legions were reported being heavily reinforced with sufficient men to make it likely for Field Marshal Rommel to attain sufficient superiority for substantial heavy counterblows at selected points.

However, even should the German army decide merely to resist and not attack it was not thought likely a decisive victory would be won by the Allies before the snow falls in the Apennines.

The gains left the Anglo-Americans of the 5th Army and the Britons and Canadians on the left of the 8th Army still short of the main mountain defence line toward which the Germans are slowly withdrawing.

The difficulty of the advance was indicated by the Allied communique, which said "enemy positions strongly held cover all main approaches and have to be dealt with in detail."

As far as is indicated in official reports the 8th Army has drive across the Trigno only in the immediate area of the river's mouth.

No B.C. Market Yet For Plastics Plant

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. R. H. Clarke, University of British Columbia science professor, said at a meeting today that British Columbia has one great obstacle to overcome before it can consider going into the manufacture of plastics.

"We haven't got the market," he said. "For example we can make rayon here but to do so we must have a form of slave labor."

Alderman Jack Price said he believed the principal objection to erecting plants to go fully into the manufacture of plastics in this province was set up by industrial firms in eastern Canada.

FORGOTTEN SOLDIERS

These days the families and friends of the boys overseas rush to send them Christmas parcels. Not all soldiers of the United Nations are so fortunate as to be remembered with a gift or even with a mere greeting.

The Czechoslovakian soldiers and airmen fighting on all fronts never hear from home.

These forgotten combatants risked their lives in escaping from their homeland overrun by the Nazis.

The flight alone was a heroic achievement paid for often by their own lives or the death or imprisonment of the relatives left behind.

These many thousands of Czechoslovakian soldiers have no news from home for four or five years.

The Czechoslovakian National Alliance with the very kind assistance of the I.O.D.E. will hold a tag day Saturday, Oct. 30, in order to provide comforts for men in the free Czechoslovakian armed forces.

Oct. 28 is the Czechoslovakian Independence Day, the anniversary of the birth of the Czechoslovakian republic.

The people of Canada have the well-deserved reputation of achieving the most efficient war effort and the most successful relief campaigns.

The Czechoslovakian National Alliance sincerely trusts that the citizens of Victoria next Saturday, Oct. 30, will contribute generously and so help to light again the flame of freedom and civilization in Czechoslovakia!

Bloc Populaire Wants National Symbols

HULL, Que. (CP)—Andre Laurendeau of Montreal, general secretary of Le Bloc Populaire, said at a political rally here Wednesday that Canada's lack of a national flag, a national anthem and the fact it could not amend its own constitution was "a shameful and ridiculous situation to which Le Bloc Populaire will put an end."

He said, however, these things would not place Canada among the "entirely sovereign" nations until the country is directed by a government which would have at heart Canada's interests "before those of other foreign nations."

Great Air Battles 'Almost Certain'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The next few hours are almost certain to bring great battles between ship-borne and land-based aircraft over Japanese-held islands in the central Pacific.

United States naval authorities, however, are confident that carrier-borne planes in sufficient numbers can nullify the enemy's land-based aerial defenses.

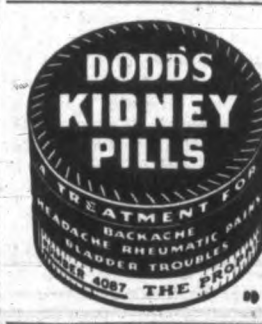

The battles appear likely to be joined when powerful forces of U.S. aircraft carriers strike at Japanese outer defenses to seize advanced bases from which to launch new attacks even nearer the Japanese mainland.

Authorities say it will be a long tough job, but they emphasize it is absolutely necessary to carry forward Allied bases in the central Pacific to positions at least in line with advances already made along the Aleutians chain in the north and the Solomons archipelago in the southwest.

Ralph A. Bard, U.S. assistant Secretary of the Navy, summed up the situation in a Navy Day speech at Detroit Wednesday.

"A study of the geography of the central Pacific," he said, "clearly indicates the task which confronts the navy. Attacks must be spearheaded from aircraft carriers. Landing operations in some of these islands may draw out the Japanese navy. We hope and pray for that event."

This implied challenge to the Japanese fleet to come out and fight probably will not be accepted. The belief here is that the Japanese will not risk their main fleet strength until their home islands are threatened.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The battle of giants in the great bend of the Dnieper has reached a magnitude and a ferocity reminiscent of Stalingrad, and like that epic struggle, the present conflict casts a grim shadow of disaster across the Nazi armies on the eastern front.

Hitler is in a bad hole, but we shall do well not to make grandiose forecasts.

True, the picture is gloomy for the Nazis. Even Berlin has been forced to the unwelcome task of preparing the long-suffering German public for another catastrophe. The only question remaining is what the extent of the calamity will be.

The Nazi capital has broadcast news of "a large German withdrawal movement" in the Dnieper bend.

THROW EVERYTHING

Moscow tells us the Germans are throwing everything they have into the battle to stem the Russian onslaught—fresh troops, tanks, aircraft and artillery. Indications are, however, that this bloody resistance is being made, not with the idea of holding the present positions, but to permit the general withdrawal of the long, unwieldy front without a debacle.

'New Order'—Finis

WITH THE ONWARD RUSSIAN SWEEP, the most crushing military blow of the war is being dealt the once "invincible" German armies. The Berlin press, no longer able to discount it, is discarding the "detachment operation" explanation and admitting "a dangerous retreat in Russia." A Swedish correspondent in Berlin reports that Germany has been "given its blackest day since the war started, even counting Stalingrad." Every German now knows that the Russians hold the initiative, this correspondent adds, and that the "Red Army force, instead of growing weaker, grows stronger, piling up great troubles for the German army."

For a while it was possible for the Nazis to maintain the fiction of "a well-ordered retreat." But somehow it became a little faster than their master minds intended. The Russians refused to accept a stalemate, so much desired by the Nazis. On almost every sector of the front, now some 2,000 miles long, there has been decisive action since Hitler announced his stand on the Dnieper. It is the reverse of a year ago when Stalingrad seemed about to fall and Rommel was hammering at the gates of Alexandria and Suez.

Today, with the United Nations converging from all directions upon the heart of "Fortress Europe," it must be clear, even to the Germans, that military victory is no longer within the reach of Nazi arms. The period of unrelieved failure now facing them is reported to be filling all Germany with gloom. It could not be otherwise. The preoccupation of the Nazis is to prevent the home front from collapsing under the knowledge that the war cannot be won. Diplomatic failure, too, The London Times reports, parallels the military, with all satellite states now looking for peace. We scarcely need be reminded that all talk of a "new order" in Europe has ended.

Air and Commonwealth

IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE BRITISH Empire and Commonwealth after the war, no less than in the maintenance of a reasonable standard of life in Britain itself, air transport will be a potent, indeed, an indispensable, instrument. Air transport is useful to all nations. To the scattered communities of the British Commonwealth, it is important. To Britain, dependent on overseas trade and with world-wide overseas responsibilities, it is vital.

In theory, Britain after the war might have a choice. She might be a small island, politically, strategically, financially and commercially dominated by the world powers. Or she might be the centre of a Commonwealth and Empire, bound together by air and sea, as they were once bound together by sea alone.

In practice, there is no choice. Commonwealth and Empire are living realities, with wills of their own, which cannot be cast off like an old coat. In practice, if there were a choice, there is no doubt that the choice would be. Mr. Morrison recently, and General Smuts and other Commonwealth statesmen in the past, have made that clear.

Canada, which was an air pioneer before the war, has provided nation-wide air facilities for the movement of essential men and materials, whether her own or of the United States. The experience our airmen gained in widely varying conditions has been used in the Commonwealth Air Training Scheme. In Labrador, a big air base has been built at Goose Bay under agreement between Newfoundland, Canada and the United States. It is the most important Atlantic ferry terminal for traffic to the Far East via the Yukon. In Australia, hundreds of new landing grounds have been built. South African airlines have been extended to Portuguese East Africa and the Congo. In these and other spheres, nearly all the extensive ground organization, including meteorological and radio facilities, has been provided by the governments of the British Commonwealth and Empire, in co-operation with other interested authorities.

Consciousness of these truths underlay the Commonwealth conference on civil air transport which met in London last week. The conference was strictly a "family talk" of representatives from Britain, the Dominion and India. Its conversations were informal and exploratory. The conclusions reached are subject to confirmation by the governments represented. Nevertheless, the conference was neither exclusive nor fruitless. Conferences with the United States and the Soviet Union are to follow. The Commonwealth "family talk" will have something positive to contribute to them. It resulted in unanimous agreement on recommendations as to the development of civil aviation after the war, and in unanimous agreement as to the contribution which the countries of the British Commonwealth could make towards international air co-operation.

The average German pocket battleship seems to be in a class with the average pocket cigarette lighter. Both are out of order most of the time.

Opportunity For B.C.

GREAT THINGS WERE PREDICTED some time ago for the plastic airplane. Engineers and designers concentrated on this type of ship in the hope that they could find a quick and easy route to the massed production of planes. They wished to simplify the process of assembly, which requires the driving of hundreds of thousands of rivets in a big plane.

While the research in plastics continued British designers came forth with a revolutionary idea of making planes from plywood. They gave us the Mosquito, the only new plane to be introduced so far in the war. Designs for Spitfires, Hurricanes, Lancasters, Lightnings, Liberators and Flying Fortresses had all been prepared before the first guns were fired.

The Mosquito is being quickly constructed in Canada as well as Great Britain, and is the most effective Allied weapon for needling Berlin. It is also the most efficient all-around plane the Allies have. It can carry 1,000 pounds of bombs and once these are released it becomes the fastest fighter in the world with four cannon and four machine guns. In addition, it can be used as a reconnaissance bomber and a fast transport for urgent cargoes.

The demonstration by the Mosquito is causing manufacturers to investigate the possibilities of further use of plywood in airplane construction. British Columbia should be vitally interested in this investigation as the material for the plywood plane is to have a place in postwar air development then British Columbia should see that the plants which manufacture the planes are established in this province.

Heroic, But Forgotten

WHEN CZECHOSLOVAKIA WAS INVADIED in the spring of 1939 following the debacle of Munich, thousands of the younger men fled their country in a desperate hope of being able to get to Britain, Russia, the Middle East to join the armies which might ultimately liberate their own land from the hated Nazi.

Thousands of these men are now organized under the banner of the Free Czechoslovak armed forces stationed in Great Britain, Canada, Russia, the United States and the Near East. But, unlike the soldiers of the Canadian, British, American, and Russian armies, they fight without any encouraging letters or messages from their loved ones in their native land. From these they are completely cut off, and know not even of the fate of their families.

Saturday, Oct. 30, is a day which means much to these men, for it is Czechoslovakia's Independence Day. As a sympathetic gesture to the heroic little nation, which for centuries has advanced consistently toward the ideal of democracy, liberty, and justice, the Czechoslovak National Alliance in Canada, with headquarters at Toronto, has organized an appeal to all Canadians to honor the men of the Free Czechoslovak forces on this day.

In Victoria the commemoration will take the form of a tag day in aid of the fund to be used to send Christmas parcels and gifts of cigarettes, canned fruit and meats, chocolates, and other small comforts to these heroic but forgotten men. Dr. F. J. May is honorary chairman of the local committee, other members being Mrs. Wm. Ellis and Mrs. P. E. Corby, co-conveners; Mrs. Rudolf Gutmann, Dr. Josephine Kluckauf, Mrs. S. Yanda, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Mrs. Alan Chambers, Mrs. Alan Campbell, Mrs. Clifford Johns, Miss J. E. M. Bruce, Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell and Miss Margaret Clay.

War Expenditures

ALTHOUGH AT THE PEAK OF THE first World War in 1918, Canada's war industries were absorbing only 10 per cent of the total national income, it is estimated that, during the year 1942-43, at least 43 per cent of the total national income was devoted to the war effort. It is likely that, during the present fiscal year 1943-44, war expenditures will amount to 50 per cent of the total national income. The enormity of Canada's war effort may be seen from the following figures.

While, during 1939, Canada spent $112,300,000 for the armed services, during the present fiscal year she will spend $3,405,000,000. Army expenditures, which aggregated $67,000,000 during 1939, will amount to $1,764,000,000 during the current fiscal year. Even more impressive is the increase in naval expenditures, which rose from $11,400,000 during the fiscal year 1939-40 to $489,000,000 during the present fiscal year. The air force, which absorbed $32,900,000 during 1939-40, is now costing the Canadian government $1,129,000,000.

In addition, the Canadian government has spent substantial sums for the production of munitions as well as for the maintenance of wives and children of members of the armed forces. In this respect, Canada surpasses practically every other nation. Whereas the Dominion government pays a wife with one child, whose husband is in the service, $72.60 per month, the payment in the United States is $62 and in the United Kingdom only $33.22. Tremendous as the expenditures of the Dominion government already are, it is obvious that they are bound to increase as the war effort is accelerated. And here is a further argument in support of oversubscription to Canada's Fifth Victory Loan.

When the Russians retake cities and towns from the Germans, they commonly find them in ruins. Poltava, famed in song and story, was left by the Nazis in ashes. Calling perpetrators of such destruction "beasts," is a libel on the generality of animals.

OLD CUSTOM

PRACTICAL POLITICS, AS HAS OFTEN been remarked here before, more in ignorance than in anger, is the most impractical of trades. Never did it appear more impractical than in its present local incarnation. But it is not as crazy as it looks.

Of course, the lunatic fringe always makes the most noise and gets the headlines in the papers, but it usually does not control the inner substance of politics. Thus when some of the local medicine men of the Conservative Party rush out to attack the theory of provincial coalition, the public will be unwise indeed to imagine that they represent anything but their pitiful little machines. Men who have traveled over most of British Columbia lately assure me that the people as a whole—that is the majority which is so far opposed to the C.C.F.—not only support the principle of coalition in Victoria but go further and demand that the coalition become a permanent provincial party, divorced entirely from federal politics.

It is too early yet to see whether this will come about. At the moment the complication of a federal election has got in the way—or rather the imagined prospect of an election. Mr. Bracken has been seen in the way of every bed for months now and long ago sent out the fiery cross to warn the local clans that Mr. King would spring to the country before Christmas—which was rating Mr. King too low, a common mistake among his enemies.

Warned of an election, the Conservatives of British Columbia, very properly, started to organize federally; whereupon the Liberals said they must organize also. This meant that the Hart government was going to be split into two competing organizations each knifing the other federally and, inevitably, these wounds would be felt provincially as well. This spectacle naturally delighted the C.C.F., which saw the forces of reaction breaking up.

REACTION

BUT IN POINT OF fact, the only real pressure for such a break-up comes from the old machinists who fear that coalition will become permanent and that a new party will find better managers and thus remove them from their ancient roosting places. On the contrary, the queer ululations of some of the local politicians here and in Vancouver have had the opposite effect of that intended. They have caused men of both parties to regard the prospect of a break-up at Victoria and to ponder its results—the sure election of the C.C.F. Thus of late—as you will find if you haunt the dens of politics as I do—there has been a new movement to solidify the government, close up the ranks and keep provincial politicians out of federal politics. It seems clear now that provincial ministers have seen the folly of mixing in affairs outside their own jurisdiction, thus wrecking their government, and are not likely to take any part in the next federal campaign.

This at first blush may disappoint Messrs. King and Bracken, but if they think twice they will see that it is all for their own good. Nothing could hurt the federal Liberal and Conservative parties in British Columbia in a federal election so much as the public realization that the politicians were putting the party label above the good government of British Columbia—that they were willing to wreck the local coalition and elect the C.C.F. here merely to help Messrs. King and Bracken. Such a realization would turn thousands of Liberal and Conservative voters over to the C.C.F. in mere disgust. For everyone concerned, therefore, it is essential to separate the federal and provincial parties during the year of intensive federal politics now approaching.

HOWEVER, TROUBLE is not confined to the old parties. The C.C.F. is having plenty, too, as was inevitable. It has come, though, a little earlier than most people suspected but it has come in a familiar and traditional form—a Communist Party, now calling itself Labor-Progressive, which threatens to split the C.C.F. vote. This quarrel between the moderate, gradualist Social Democrats and the real Leftists has always arisen in every country at this stage in political history and the C.C.F. undoubtedly foresaw it; but perhaps did not foresee that it would be so formidable a threat.

For not only do the Communists threaten to nominate candidates against the C.C.F. federally and provincially but they have already wrecked the plan to affiliate some of the largest trade unions with the C.C.F. Moreover, it is quite obvious to anyone who has listened to them, that some of the most prominent figures in the C.C.F. in British Columbia—in basic disagreement with Mr. Coldwell—are far closer to the Labor-Progressive Party than to their own. Communism is their spiritual home. Now that it is open to them, all nicely refinished and renamed with a welcome sign at the door, will some of them accept the invitation?

Altogether, confusion greets one on every hand these days and no man knows the end of it all. But what did you expect? This is an inevitable part of the current revolution. It is only the local machinists of the most primitive sort who are amazed and who utter cries of alarm. The seasoned politicians of all parties know that it will take years to sort this business out.

"The effort made for the happiness of others lifts us above ourselves."—L. M. Child.

"If you love and serve men, you cannot, by hiding or stratagem, escape the remuneration."—Emerson.

OLD PARTIES MUST WAKE UP

From Montreal Standard

The Ontario result means that the federal Liberal Party will have to demonstrate to the people that it means business in its social legislations. It cannot now afford to drag out, to delay, social security and health insurance and similar proposals. The men and the women of the Dominion, the people whose say is final in this democratic nation, know something about practical economics. They have been taught by the years of depression and the years of wartime regulations. They are thinking about the war and they are worried about it. The Liberals and the Conservatives may truthfully argue that they have the experience and the know-how when it comes to running the country and the C.C.F. has not. But if the old-time parties fumble the postwar hot potato while the new rival grabs eagerly for it, then we are going to see a C.C.F. government running the nation while those who refused to recognize the challenge ruefully ponder on their mistake.

"let George do it"

In such matters as Packing, Moving and Storage, people in Victoria are perfectly satisfied to "let Dowells do it," but in other important matters there is sometimes an inclination to "let George do it." Today we just want to say a word about a far bigger and far more important job of MOVING than we have ever attempted. We mean the job of Moving the hearts of our fellow citizens to a full appreciation of their responsibility in the matter of the 5th Victory Loan. This is one time when we very definitely cannot say "Let George Do It" or, indeed, let any one else but each individual do it. The task is so tremendous that unless we all "DO IT" it just can't be done. So let's all determine here and now that before this campaign is over we will each have the maximum possible share in Bonds of the 5th Victory Loan, Canada's best and safest investment. But, of course, as always, when it comes to packing, moving and storage you can just

Lt.-Col. A. E. Parlow And Maj. H. A. Morley Here With Loggers

Soldier loggers from Victoria, who have been overseas three years, arrived home today and will spend leave with their families before starting to work in B.C. woods to speed fuel production and produce lumber that will help win the war.

The men arrived in Vancouver late Wednesday and remained overnight at Little Mountain military depot. Today they were granted 14 days' leave and the Victorians took the day steamer for this city.

Among them was Maj. H. A. Morley, 1130 View Street, who has been in Britain since 1940. It was his second trip overseas in two wars—he was "over there" four years in the last war. Mrs. Morley went to Vancouver to meet him.

In charge of the group was Lt.-Col. A. E. Parlow of Victoria and Vancouver.

Other Victoria soldiers in the group of 300 were: Pte. W. A. S. Sgt. W. C. Aiken, Co. Sgt. Maj. Jim Mayes, L.Cpl. Walter George, QMS. Wm. McPherson, Sgt. W. E. Jensen, Pte. A. J. Fargetish and Cpl. J. Beaumont. Island men included Pte. Dick Burke, Alberni; Pte. Joe Mullen and Pte. D. Brown of Ladysmith.

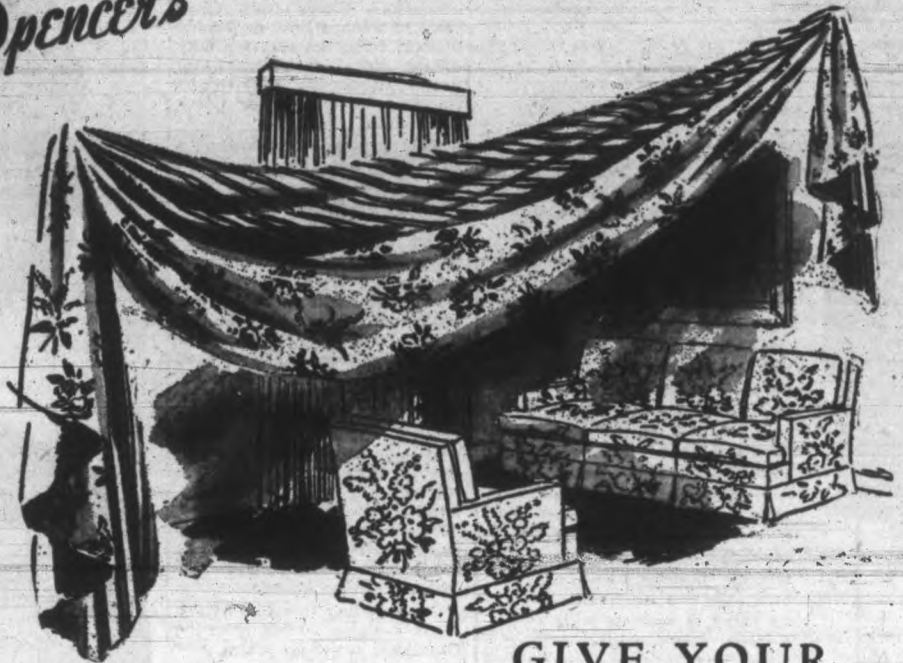

MISSING HIS GIRL
Pte. A. Wagett of Victoria, jumping off the train in Vancouver in full battle dress, expressed disappointment his Vancouver girl friend was not at the depot to meet him. However, he comforted himself with the thought of a bath, and later, steak and onions.

In fact, all the men wanted steak and onions. They were more interested in such a meal than in telling of experiences in Scotland.
L.Cpl. N. Clifford of Slocan said he wanted to "get back to Scotland" because he liked it better there. He's been in the army three years, but after the war he said he's going back to settle with his wife in the land of the heather.

Anniversary dinner at Fairfield United Church will be held Monday evening at 6:30. An excellent musical program will be presented. Rev. W. W. McPherson, Ph.D., of Oak Bay United Church, will speak on "All in a Day's Work."

Council Approves $86,000 Water Plan

Saanich Council in committee Wednesday night gave preliminary approval to plans to raise $86,000 from 120 Elk Lake residents for a $86,000 water project to be started as soon as possible.

Present plans call for raising $36,000 by the residents. A by-law for their endorsement will be circulated. The remainder of the sum, $50,000, it is planned will be diverted from the general water works fund.

Many of the 120 residents of Elk Lake area have for several months been forced to carry water from the lake because their wells were dry. This fall proved the driest in several years for residents of this area.

It is expected complete approval of the plan will not be made until early in December. Besides securing the approval of the residents of the area, an internal by-law must be passed by the Saanich Council and the project must receive the approval of the provincial medical health officer and the inspector of municipal affairs.

Arrive in Canada

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (C.P.)—English brides of Canadian soldiers arriving in this port recently saw for the first time the land of their adoption. Many of the 120 brides were accompanied by their month-old infants. There were as many as 20 babies, all under 20 months of age on board the British transport that brought them.

The movement probably marked the biggest exodus of English brides of Canadian soldiers to Canada so far in this war. There are still thousands more of them to come. Among brides who arrived was Mrs. Kathleen Price, London, wife of Cpl. James E. Price, Edmonton, of the Medical Corps, who is soon to be repatriated back to Canada. With her was her six-month-old baby, David.

Coach and Horses 'Goes Feminine,' As Wren Barracks

Fourteen Wrens from many parts of Canada have arrived in Victoria from the east for duty at the Royal Canadian Naval Base at Esquimalt. They will be stationed in the former Coach and Horses tavern.

They are the vanguard of a large draft expected soon to fill vital shore jobs releasing men for sea duty aboard the ships of Canada's fighting navy. This initial group includes messengers and motor transport drivers.

Esquimalt Wrens will be commanded by Lieut. Nora J. Allen of Toronto, who, with Sub-Lt. Esther Latimer of Victoria, the quarters officer, has supervised completion of the new Wren barracks. These officers were assisted by a skeleton crew of four Leading Wrens from Ontario who will form the backbone of the barracks staff. They are Norma Hall, Arranmore, the regulator; Eleanor Peacock, Meaford, quarters assistant; Helen Yakabuske, Barry's Bay, head cook; and Elizabeth Magus, Fort William, wardroom attendant.

The rambling two-story yellow stucco building, 30 feet from the Esquimalt highway, which now houses the Wrens is one of the oldest and best-known landmarks on Vancouver Island. The Coach and Horses was acquired by naval authorities six months ago and has been transformed into a comfortable, attractive barracks for Wrens who will work at the Naval base nearby.

Officers' quarters running down the right side of the building is a separate unit. There are several sleeping cabins, a small wardroom and an office for the quarters officer.

The mess fills the entire centre section of the ground floor. Wrens dine "cafeteria style" carrying their own meals on trays to the five light wood tables running parallel to the large front windows.

Pride of Leading Wren Yakabuske, the galley has been completely re-equipped with navy machinery. The unit boasts a steam cooker, meat slicer, vaporizer, deep fat fryer, and dish-washing machine in addition to the usual array of knives, pots and pans.

The second floor provides sleeping accommodation for 150 Wrens. Three large rooms run the length of the building and have been partitioned into cabins which contain two double bunks, several chairs and lockers. Bright "Wren" blue bedspreads and drapes will contrast the light cream walls.

Petty officers and leading Wrens are quartered in two cabins near the stairs. A quiet sleeping room for girls working on "watch" has been built behind the officers' quarters on the ground floor.

Recognizing a purely feminine weakness, naval authorities have supplied the barracks with a battery of mirrors. They hang in the cabins, washrooms, halls and fo'c'stles. Two dozen full-length mirrors scattered through the quarters are expected to eliminate those two feminine buggers—peekaboo slips and crooked stocking seams.

Now an integral part of the "ship," Fusser, a Dutch Barge dog, was presented to Lieut. Allen at a Victoria dog show. The dog is now the official mascot.

IF BABY IS CROSS FIND OUT WHY

HEALTHY BABIES are not cross. Your baby should not be cross. If he is, then something in his little system is "out of order." Probably Baby's Own Tablets can promptly "put it right." Mrs. H. of Fenelon Falls, had the experience. She writes: "My little girl was irritable, feverish and sometimes sick at her stomach—what a relief it was, after giving her Baby's Own Tablets, to see how much better she was."

Sweet-tasting—easily crushed to a powder, if desired—absolutely free from harmful narcotics or opiates. Promptly effective in simple fevers, diarrhoea, colds, constipation, simple colic, teething troubles and other minor ills.

Cordova Bay—Classes in provincial recreation have started in McMorris's Pavilion, under direction of Miss Frances Borde. Nov. 2 the class will meet for registration and practice with Miss Borde.

Next of Kin Parcels—Dried fruits, as well as dehydrated fruits, are now permissible in the next of kin parcels to a combined weight of one pound. This refers to such items as prunes, apricots, dates, figs, raisins. Apples should be specially dried for long travel. Cables to prisoners of war and civilians in enemy and enemy-occupied territories may still be sent. The cost is $10 to the Far East and $2.25 to enemy-occupied Europe. Information and forms are at Red Cross headquarters office, 602 Broughton Street, telephone B 3159.

No Christmas Tree Shortage for Homes

Ottawa ban on commercial cutting of Christmas trees does not mean there will be no trees in homes this coming festive season.

It does mean, however, that some places in southern California will be without Christmas trees, for suitable firs do not grow there and homes in that state have depended on shipments from B.C.

Most of the trees used in B.C. are privately cut, or, at best, by small dealers, who will not be affected by Ottawa's ban on labor and transport for Christmas trees.

Forest branch officials today said farmers will continue to cut trees on their own land, but wholesale shipments to the United States will stop.

Thus, for the duration, a forest industry which last year brought in $162,000 is finished. This amount, however, is only a drop in the bucket of returns from the forests—last year, $124,000,000.

Red Cross Workers Urgently Needed

TORONTO—"Volunteer women are urgently needed in Red Cross workrooms," states Mrs. Wallace Campbell, chairman of the National Women's War Work committee.

"We have come to a critical time in Red Cross service. Women in Canada have done a wonderful job. There must be no slackening of effort now."

"Perhaps if some of the Red Cross workrooms could be kept open evenings it would step up production and give us a whole new shift of workers," suggested Mrs. Campbell.

"Make no mistake about it, with the constant drain on reserve supplies, there could arise a crisis when there could be too little and too late, unless women workers rally round and knit and sew as they have never done before."

"As our war fronts expand, the need for hospital supplies and comforts for our fighting men will increase a thousandfold. We must keep pace with the demand," urged Mrs. Campbell.

"We appeal to all women of Canada busy in Red Cross work, and those who have not yet offered their services, to dig in and keep vital supplies going to the fighting fronts."

"For our men in uniform, there is no easing down. The very least we can do is to keep them supplied with the best Canadian Red Cross can produce."

Ratepayers Oppose Elk Lake Water Plan

Disapproval to diverting $50,000 from the municipal general water works funds was expressed Wednesday night by the Saanich Ratepayers' Association meeting at the C.C.F. Hall, Richmond Road.

The association, which has for several months backed the move to abolish Saanich ward boundaries, does not like the plan to extend the municipal water works into the Elk Lake area to give 120 farmers and other citizens municipal water.

L. S. Passmore, former Saanich reeve, objected to the project being rushed through so near election time.

Concern over the possible effects chlorination of Saanich water will have on the operation of septic tanks was expressed. Delegates said that since chlorine killed bacteria the septic tanks which rely on the action of bacteria to break down sewage might not function properly with chlorinated water.

By PETE SALLAWAY

IN KEEPING with the shortage that seems to have hit just about everything since this country went to war, Victoria is now faced with a definite scarcity of hockey referees. Talking to Doug Fletcher, official representative here for the Pacific Coast Hockey Association, he told us the referee question for the coming season, was a mighty serious problem.

Up until this week Fletcher was not greatly worried as he had only to locate a linesman to work with Ed Battell who was figured to get in touch with Fletcher at telephone E 3123. As the first game is scheduled here Nov. 5 Fletcher would like to contact any likely officials as soon as possible.

Just to make matters more difficult, referees this season will have new rules to contend with. What is figured to be one of the most important changes in the rules has been made with the introduction of the new red line in centre ice, which will permit a defending team to pass out up to that line. In previous seasons players of a defending club could not pass the puck over their own blue line without being whistled for offside. Fletcher stated to day he had a line on a couple of referee prospects but nothing definite and would welcome applications from anybody wanting a try-out for the coming season.

Hockey situation on the mainland as far as the two civilian clubs, Coley Hall's St. Regis and New Westminster Canadian Pacific Air Lines, are concerned, appears to be a case of which team will come up with a couple of star players situated in that area. Seems that both Bus Brayshaw, ex-V.M.D. performer, and Pete Leswick, another former member of the V.M.D., just can't make up their minds which team to play with. Both Brayshaw and Leswick have been working out with C.P.A. but are reported flitting with the idea of playing with the hotelmen.

The mainland civilian outfits are really having their troubles getting ice material. St. Regis have four ex-Vancouver Lions out on the ice. The foursome include goalie Percy Jackson, Lude Palm, Bill Hutton and Frank Jerwa. Romeo Martell is also with the hotelmen. C.P.A. are even worse off than St. Regis. Latest reports have them in need of two defencemen and three forwards and should they lose Brayshaw and Leswick that will mean two more holes to plug. Manager Hughie McNeill is reported off on a trip to the prairies but it is pretty late to start trying to find hockey players with the season opening less than two weeks away. C.P.A. have lined up a smart goalie in Andy Young, starry goalkeeper for Lethbridge for six years and previously with Weyburn.

Toronto Beaches Blank Hurricanes

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Balm Beach overwhelmed Toronto R.C.A.F. Hurricanes, 21 to 0, Wednesday night in a floodlight game in the Ontario Rugby Football Union for the Hurricanes' first defeat of the season.

The win, second in three starts for Beaches in eight days, put Coach Alex Ponton's club within striking distance of second place and a spot in the union play-offs. Four Beach players shared in the scoring, with Annis Stukus, leading point-getter in the union, topping the parade with six points, three of them coming on converts from placement and the other on a placement for a three-point field goal.

Stu Scott scored one touchdown on a 75-yard run after intercepting a Hurricane forward pass. Frank Stukus, whose plunging was an outstanding feature of the game, ploughed two yards through the Beach line for another. Ross McKelvey got the third with just a little more than a minute to play, when he booted a loose ball over the goal line and then fell on it for the major score.

Adams Says Hockey Clubs Real Tough To Beat at Home

DETROIT (AP)—Home surroundings seem to mean more in hockey than in any other major league sport, and this season, says manager Jack Adams of the world championship Detroit Red Wings, they'll mean more than ever.

It isn't nostalgia or home cooking or travel weariness, declares Adams, who this week-end starts his 17th season as pilot of Detroit's National Hockey League entry. His explanation is that many athletes who work regular war plant shifts can't get away for long road trips and others in Canada can't get border clearance into this country.

"We have at least half a dozen players who won't travel except for short week-end trips," says Adams. "Consequently we plan to carry an unusually large squad. We won't be so tough on the road, but I understand other clubs are in the same fix."

Detroit opens its title defence here Sunday against New York Rangers, who start off a week-end doubleheader by playing Saturday at Toronto. Boston plays at Montreal Saturday and Toronto is at Chicago Sunday.

Only twice since last year has the Stanley Cup remained with the same club for two successive years, and Adams isn't picking Detroit to repeat.

Adams thinks the team to beat is Boston although Chicago and Toronto are ranked not far back. But, in Adams' book, every club is going to be tough to beat at home.

Miss Keeneland Wins Juvenile Feature

BALTIMORE (AP)—Warren Wright's Calumet Farm's two top juvenile fillies, Miss Keeneland and Twilight Tear, finished one-two in the rich Selma Stakes before a crowd of 12,000 at Pimlico Wednesday.

Miss Keeneland, covering the distance in 1:49 2/5, blazed through the stretch to score a length victory over her more highly-regarded stablemate, and win the $20,750 purse.

Twilight Tear, which led for most of the muddy 1 1/16 mile test, finished a length in front of A. B. Hancock's Whirlabout. The Calumet entry rewarded its backers $4.40, $4.10 and $2.70 and $2.

Starry New Navy Ice Players

CHURCH RUSSELL
Classy 180-pound centre from last year's Winnipeg Rangers, winners of the Canadian junior championship. He was the leading scorer in the Winnipeg Junior League.

LEO REISE,
son of the former N.H.L. and Saskatchewan star of the same name, Leo is expected to add power to the navy defence. He weighs 190 pounds and played in 1941-42 with Guelph Biltmores in the Ontario Junior League.

GIB NORDIN,
185-pound centre who spent last season with Winnipeg Navy. Previous year was with Lester Patrick's New York Rovers and scored 72 points in the Eastern Amateur United States League.

JACK MELED,
one of the real huskies with the Navy club. A right winger, Jack tips the scales at 190 pounds. He was last season with Fort Arthur Bearcats and Navy. The previous season saw him with St. Louis Flyers in the American Association.

CHARLIE KREEGER,
smooth-skating left winger, who performed with Buffalo Bisons in the American Hockey League last winter. Weighing 175 pounds he spent three years in pro hockey before enlisting.

R.A.F. Footballers Score Third Win

R.A.F. footballers made it three straight wins in the Victoria and District League first division, Wednesday afternoon, with a 5 to 2 victory over the Army. It marked the first setback for the troops in three appearances.

Win left the British airmen sitting on top of the standings with a three point margin over the second-place Army, while the V.M.D. and Navy are tied for third, each with two points.

After being down 2 to 0 in the early part of the match, the R.A.F. came back strong to deadlock the score before halftime and then breeze through for three counters. In the second half without a reply, R.A.F. players showed in much better condition in the final half hour of play.

Egan Will Perform

DETROIT (CP)—The $15,500 which Detroit Red Wings paid last season for defenceman Pat Egan appeared a sound investment Wednesday when manager Jack Adams announced he has been informed Egan was dis-

Angott Displays Class in Handling White Ring Lesson

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sammy Angott is still the lightweight champion, and the very last fellow to dispute it today would be Luther (Sluggo) White, Baltimore negro, who got the boxing lesson of his life Wednesday night in 15 rounds.

It was one of the most interesting and unusual fights ever held here. As the boys started the fourth round, a generator failure plunged the Hollywood baseball park into darkness. It was an hour and seven minutes before electricians repaired the trouble.

The crowd sat good-naturedly through the intermission. The boxer retired to their dressing rooms after waiting in their corners for the first half hour, blankets piled over their bathrobes to shut out the cold night air.

When the fourth round got under way again, 10 seconds had been pared from it. That was the elapsed time from the instant they rushed from their corners and indulged in one exchange before the arcs went out.

ANGOTT MASTER

Angott was complete master of the situation. He went out in the first round to steal the play from the fast-punching White. He danced away and around the negro and came back to deliver any number of hard, delayed left and right uppercuts. This tireless smashing had a marked effect on White over a long period of time, and in the 14th and 15th he seemed on the verge of being knocked out.

Midway in the 15th Sammy smashed home a terrific right to the jaw that sent White out of the ring, but the negro bounced back and continued to take terrific punishment as he wobbled around the ring.

Angott received a flat guarantee of $15,000 and a chance to face Bob Montgomery, recognized by the New York Athletic Commission as the titleholder. White's share was 60 per cent over the first $25,000. The official attendance was 10,067. The gross gate was $35,692 and the net gate $32,588.

Angott weighed 134, White 138.

Canadiens Will Show Improved Hockey Club

Team Appears Strong From Goalie Out

MONTREAL (CP)—It looks as though Montreal Canadiens will have a hockey team this year. Canadiens were sixth in 1941 and 1942 and fourth by a single point last March, but barring accidents they ought to be "considerably higher" as one official puts it, this season.

They have lost two stellar right wingers in Joe Benoit and Gordie Drillon but other changes have been for the better.

Right wing remains the paramount problem of coach Dick Irvin but there are reports the situation will be further improved before the season's opener against Boston Bruins Saturday night.

Goalie choice is between Bert Gardiner, Bill Durnan of the Quebec Senior Hockey League Royals and 17-year-old Jerry McNeil from Quebec. Irvin isn't making any promises but it looks as though he favors Gardiner or Durnan.

Canadiens have two experienced defence combinations in Glen Harmon, Mike McMahon, Butch Bouchard and Leo Lamoureux.

GOOD FORWARDS

Up front Irvin has Buddy O'Connor, Gerry Heffernan, Ray Gettiffe, Murph Chamberlain, Toe Blake, Elmer Lach and Maurice Richards from last year's squad.

He also has Fernand Majeau of the Q.S.H.L. Royals, Larry Reardon, Bobby Walton and Phil Watson of Rangers, for home games. Wednesday Canadiens secured Watson from New York Rangers in trade for Charlie Sands and Dutch Hiller.

Majeau has been one of the finds of the year in practice, and rounds out a line with O'Connor and Heffernan. Reardon, brother of Terry, has been working well with Chamberlain and Gettiffe. Walton may be used to plug one of the holes on the wing.

Watson will probably tie in with Toe Blake and Elmer Lach for one of the most powerful lines of the season.

New York Rangers Obtain Hiller, Sands

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lester Patrick, manager of New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, announced here Wednesday night the club had secured the services of Wilbert (Dutch) Hiller and veteran Charlie Sands from Montreal Canadiens in a trade for Phil Watson. Hiller is a left winger and Sands a right winger.

Hiller is no stranger to the New York roster as he turned professional with the club in 1937 after spending a season with New York Rovers. He was traded to Canadiens in 1941. Sands is a veteran of 11 seasons in the N.H.L., having played with Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins before joining the Montreal team.

Watson is an employee of the Fairchild aircraft plant in Montreal and will be available only for games the Canadiens play at home or in Toronto.

Slide Rule Named Definite Starter For $25,000 Race

BALTIMORE (AP)—The prospective field for the $25,000 Pimlico Special Saturday lost one good colt Wednesday and gained another.

Trainer Cecil Wilhelm notified Maryland Jockey Club officials that he would ship W. E. Boeing's Slide Rule to Baltimore to start against Shut Out in the weight-for-age, winner-take-all special.

Slide Rule, a three-year-old son of Snark and runner-up to Count Fleet for money-earning honors among the current crop of three-year-olds, became eligible for the Special by winning the Arlington classic.

Thumbs Up, the Louis B. Mayer son of Blenheim II, was declared out of the race by trainer C. A. (Slim) Roles.

Thumbs Up suffered a cut fore leg while being pulled up after an impressive victory in the Havre de Grace handicap here Oct. 16, and had weather retarded his return to form.

Greentree Stable's Shut Out, the other principal candidate for the Special, worked out on the muddy strip between races Wednesday. He went a mile and a quarter in 2:08, eased up.

Other probable starters in the 1 3/16 miles test are Foxcatcher Farm's Fairy Manhurst, Hawthorne Stable's Eurasian and Hal Price Headley's Anticlimax, which became eligible only last Saturday when he romped home ahead of Son of Peace and Shut Out in the Washington handicap.

ALSAB COMING BACK

Alsab will make another comeback attempt at the current joint Maryland race meeting being staged at Pimlico, Maryland Jockey Club officials said.

Mrs. Albert Sabath's four-year-old son of Good Goods was shipped from New York to Baltimore Wednesday, and likely will be pointed for the Bryan and O'Hara Memorial Handicap Nov. 13, the closing day.

Alsab has been far off his peak form this year, having made only two starts, finishing third both times. Last year he was runner-up to Shut Out for three-year-old honors and turned in two triumphs over the great Whirlaway in three attempts.

Chinese Bazaar And Fair Saturday

Hundreds of China's babies, Thursday and undernourished wounded will benefit on Saturday if all friends of China, who realize the titanic part she has been playing for seven years, attend the Chinese bazaar and fair to be held at the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association Hall, 636 Fisgard Street, from 2 till 11. The official opening will be at 2.30 by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A.

Chinese opera will be played between 8 and 10 and there will be singing, dancing and other entertainment. There will be hundreds of beautiful and useful gifts to solve the Christmas problem, lots of chocolate bars, and other things that are scarce and many surprises. Tea will be served afternoon and evening and there will be home cooking. There will be tombola prizes and the Chinese Youth Association has collected groceries, including many not often seen now, for two prizes. Bingo will be run by the Chinese Ladies' Group. Suburban Chinese will stock and run a vegetable booth.

The bazaar is being sponsored by the Committee for Medical Aid for China, assisted by its Chinese friends.

Garbage Towing Bills Queried

The city public works committee, meeting Wednesday to consider the problem arising over towing of city garbage to sea, reaffirmed its position that Victoria has a contract for that work with the Island Tug and Barge Co. Ltd. and called on that firm for the submission of proper bills. The committee, under Aid. Ed. Williams, chairman, reviewed letters from the contracting company and from Preston-Mann Ltd., the former stating it had disposed of its assets and the latter saying it would provide temporary towing but could not continue indefinitely under the contract which it had not assumed.

Members also learned bills had been rendered for towing by a firm called the Island Tug and Barge Ltd., a name different from the contracting firm with which the city has an agreement running into 1945.

The bills submitted were in excess of the $225 a month plus covered in the present contract by approximately $150 a month. In view of the fact they were not sent out by the original firm and because they appeared to be contrary to War-time Price and Trade Board regulations, the committee held those bills and called for proper ones from the original company.

In addition to the duplexes, four different types of homes are listed, varying in value from $2,500 to $2,950. Each of the duplexes is valued at $5,100. Of the total 16 are in the $2,500 class, three in the $2,950 category, eight in the $2,550 group and 11 in the $2,600 division.

They are located on Quebec, Michigan, Superior, Ontario, Simcoe, Niagara and St. Lawrence, in the James Bay district, and on Douglas, Alpha, Speed, Burnside, Frances, Steele and Beta, in the Burnside area.

Architects are McCarter and Nairne, Vancouver, with P. L. James, Victoria, acting in a supervisory capacity. The work is being done by Bennett and White Construction Co. Ltd.

Guilt of keeping a combustible material in the basement of an apartment building at 820 Fisgard Street, J. Goodman was fined $10 in city court Wednesday. The charge was laid under the Fire Marshal Act by city fire department. Goodman pleaded guilty.

ALL THE Extra VITAMINS AND MINERALS ... SHE NEEDS

Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight, and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins and minerals.

But don't worry about vitamins and minerals! Children who eat 3 average-good meals including fruit juice, and drink 2 glasses of Ovaltine each day, are getting all the extra vitamins and minerals they need.

In addition to its well-balanced food values, Ovaltine adds significant amounts of Vitamins A, B₁, and D and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron. So, if your child is not developing normally, remember this rule: 3 good meals plus 2 glasses of Ovaltine every day.

Letters Pay Tribute To J. O. Cameron

Messages from all parts of the continent are being received by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, 1262 Rockland Avenue, paying tribute to the memory of her husband, prominent philanthropist and lumberman, who died last week.

Although it was requested that no flowers be sent, Hindu and Chinese loggers employed at the Cameron mills have been sending flowers. Many of these employees, because they are aliens, said they had looked to Mr. Cameron to take care of their financial affairs, which he had done for a number of years.

T. H. Wilkinson, secretary-manager of the B.C. Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers, writes: "The late Mr. Cameron was a valued member and officer of this association for a great many years and during his active days we all benefited through his tolerance, kindness and wise counsel. You may find comfort in the fact that your husband's memory will be treasured by all of us, because he was a most honorable and courteous gentleman, and was richer in faith for having known him."

C. Morrison, secretary of the Jubilee Hospital board of directors, said: "Eloquent tribute was paid by Mr. McMullen, our president, and Judge H. H. Shandley to the high esteem in which the late Mr. Cameron was held. May it be some small consolation to you to know he held so honored a place in the hearts of friends."

"While he had not been able to take an active part for some time," said Frank Foulding, Y.M.C.A. secretary, "we have always regarded him as one of our best friends and most loyal supporters. His wise advice and leadership on the board of directors was of much value and was keenly appreciated. While he will be sincerely missed, his good works will long be remembered."

On behalf of the Victoria Musical Art Society, Mary Adamson, secretary, writes: "Mr. Cameron will be very much missed as he was such a public-spirited man and so well beloved by all with whom he came in contact."

Young Soldiers Will Give Gun Display

Forty-five young soldiers between 17 and 18 years old, active members of the Army Vocational Training School, Topaz Avenue, will parade and give drill and arms demonstration Saturday afternoon in connection with the Fifth Victory Loan drive.

Under the leadership of Capt. H. H. Massey, the boys who are receiving thorough army basic training as well as tuition in academic subjects, will be divided into two sections, the first specializing in arms and precision drill, the second giving demonstration of Bren gun and bayonet drill.

The Garrison Band will lead the parade, mustering at Hudson's Bay Co. at 2 p.m., and escort the youths in skeleton web, along the route through town to the Y.M.C.A. Here Sgt. A. B. C. Dodds and Staff Sgt. J. E. G. Pincin will give running commentaries over the loudspeakers.

The route will be from Douglas and Herald Streets, along Douglas to Fort Government, Yates to Blanshard where the display will take place in front of the Y.M.C.A.

Employees Accept Wage Schedule Plan

The City Hall Officials' Association, meeting Wednesday evening, formally accepted the report of the three-man committee established to grade salaries in a codified schedule and tendered a vote of thanks to W. M. Black, Vancouver, employees' appointee on the board, for his work.

Acceptance was made conditional on corrections covering the positions of three employees.

The meeting, starting at 8, continued until 11:20 as pros and cons were discussed in detail. The final decision was reached after several motions and amendments with the majority of those present voting for acceptance.

The issue now goes back to the City Council, which received the report at its last meeting and ordered copies prepared for all aldermen.

During the afternoon members inspected certain trees, removal of which has been requested by citizens.

Ceiling On Machine $83; Sold for $275

Max Luxumburg and Nathan Snider of the firm of ABC Electric Co. pleaded guilty in city court today to two Wartime Prices and Trade Board charges of selling used mechanical refrigerators above the price ceiling.

J. B. Clearhue, K.C., appearing for the prosecution, said the ceiling on used mechanical household refrigerators six years old was 42.5 per cent of the cost price. He said the firm had sold machines on which the ceiling was $83.30 for $275 and $240.

Mr. Clearhue said the firm advertised through a second party to make it appear the transaction was through a private individual. Both this individual and the firm gave false statements to the board during the investigations, he said.

H. W. Davey, representing the company, said one machine had been bought before the ceiling came into effect last May 4. He said the company had refunded money in both sales so that the total loss was $195.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded the case until Tuesday for sentence.

525 Jap Aircraft Smashed at Rabaul In 13-Day Blitz

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC (AP)—Rabaul, a keystone in the wall of island outposts manned by the Japanese in defence of the Philippines, is staggering under aerial knockout blows which already have destroyed or damaged 525 planes in 13 days.

In five raids there between Oct. 12 and 25, the enemy's network of airfields has been churned by more than 500 tons of bombs; the hundreds of attacking Allied bombers and fighters have shot down or damaged 175 of the 250 planes the Japanese managed to get into the air; and Rabaul's reputed anti-aircraft defences have been unable to halt the devastation.

This certain destruction of 377 enemy planes and probable damaging or destruction of 148 others at the very heart of Japanese air might in the southwest Pacific has cost the Allies 13 planes. The fifth and latest raid was made Monday, marking the third straight day of assaults to smash the enemy's New Britain stronghold. The heavy bombers dropped 151 tons of bombs, destroyed 21 planes on the Lakulal airfield and shot down at least 37 of 70 interceptors. Forty-three other enemy planes were damaged.

Bougainville, Rabaul's Solomons outpost, has sustained plane losses of more than 400 since the current Allied offensive opened June 30.

Wewak, New Guinea, through which Rabaul's air replacements once moved from the west, lost upwards of 400 planes in August and September to Allied raiders.

Island Has 44% Victory Loan Quota

The two leading units in Vancouver Island division of the Victory Loan continue to be Esquimalt and Courtenay, both of which have 50 per cent of their required quotas. The latest island over-all figure released by National War Finance officials at noon today is $4,093,350, or 44 per cent of the objective.

Victoria, with a slight spurt the last two days, is now equaling the Fourth Loan figures for the same period, but officials state the increased pace must be maintained if the quota is to be reached. Investments total $1,812,400 for this area.

Nanaimo is third in the inter-unit island drive, with 48 per cent of the $352,050 objective. Latest figures follow: Victoria $1,812,400 ($4,200,000), Saanich $38,550 ($950,000), Oak Bay $425,100 ($950,000), Esquimalt $335,700 ($625,000), Cowichan $253,450 ($730,000), Courtenay $256,100 ($450,000), Nanaimo $352,050 ($725,000), Alberni $270,000 ($620,000).

Fisherman's Reserve To Receive Award

R. W. Hiberson, chairman of the Victoria unit of the National War Finance committee, has offered a cup to be awarded to the Fishermen's Reserve ship raising the highest quota in the current Fifth Victory Loan drive, naval authorities announce today. Award will be made on a per capita basis.

Leading the inter-branch competition in the loan drive, the supply branch of the H.M.C.S. Givensby has boosted its $3,000 quota to 130 per cent, canvassing being headed by Leading Supply Assistant H. Moncur of Saskatoon.

Announcing further gains in their over-all totals, H.M.C.S. Naden has topped its Victory Loan effort at 118 per cent over quota, H.M.C.S. closely rivaling this amount with 112 per cent.

Completing 23 years in the Royal Canadian Navy, Chief Petty Officer Telegraphist Earl Briggs, R.C.N., leads the communications branch at this west coast port in their record-breaking Victory Loan drive.

A member of the H.M.C.S. Assiniboine's original crew, Chief Petty Officer Briggs has also served on practically every pre-war ship of the Royal Canadian Navy. During his naval career he served with the Royal Navy and was attached to the H.M.S. Repulse, Dauntless and Canterbury.

Gains Commission

P.O. Wilton Stott, R.C.A.F., son of Mrs. W. Stott, 1331 Denman Street, has been commissioned in that rank while serving in New Zealand, where he has been stationed since March of this year. A native of Rochdale, Lancs, Eng., P.O. Stott resided in Victoria for 17 years and prior to his enlistment was employed by the Cameron Lumber Company. He has been overseas for three years.

Airforce Loan Totals Show Steady Rise

Vancouver Island R.C.A.F. stations have exceeded their quota in the Fifth Victory Loan by 8.3 per cent, latest figures showed today.

Against a $239,500 quota, subscriptions for bonds had been received amounting to $259,450. This was an increase of 5 per cent over yesterday's amount.

One northern air base had subscribed 211 per cent of its quota. A nearby airport with a quota of $103,000 had boosted subscriptions to $125,000. Local Air Force headquarters had subscribed 120.1 per cent of its quota, and plans were being made for a presentation of the Victory pennant to Air Commodore E. A. MacLeod, Air Officer Commanding.

A West Coast R.A.F. station had subscribed 192.5 per cent of its $20,000 quota, when returns were filed this morning at the local National War Finance Committee headquarters.

The British airman had purchased bonds in the Fifth Loan campaign, totaling $38,500 and were working towards a 200 per cent record before the end of the drive.

New Planks Added To Labor Platform

Two additional points were added to labor's civic election platform Wednesday night at a meeting of the joint labor elections committee, including members of the Trades and Labor Council, Victoria Labor Council and the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference.

The first additional point called for establishment of a city-owned and operated modern transportation system, when conditions permit, with utilities put under public ownership.

Secondly, the platform sought a long-range policy of providing fuel for citizens through the existing dealers.

During the meeting, delegates heard Fred Eaton, candidate for Esquimalt reeveship, outline his reform platform.

The committee urged all responsible citizens to make sure they are on the voters' list. In addition to the City Hall, voters may register at the Victoria Labor Council Hall, 1116 Broad, from 5:30 to 7 p.m., and at the Trades and Labor Council, 602 Broughton, Thursday and Friday evenings. In addition, enumerators will be at V.M.D. No. 2 yard at noon hour on Friday, Yarrow No. 1, noon on Saturday, and Yarrow No. 2, noon of Monday. Registration of voters will terminate at 5 p.m. Monday.

High Hedge Cause Of Oak Bay Upset

Stubbornness of an Oak Bay citizen, resident of the northwest corner of Wilmot and Oak Bay Avenue has been referred to the municipal solicitor to see if anything can be done by way of legal action compelling her to cut her high hedge.

The matter came up Wednesday when the Oak Bay Council meeting with a bare quorum, adjourned to a closed committee meeting and received a report from Police Chief H. F. C. Reston to the effect that the hedge in question completely blocked motorists' view of the main thoroughfare.

Chief Reston said the citizen refused point blank to cut the hedge and Municipal Clerk R. F. Blandy said the municipality had the power to control the height of fences but not hedges.

An application from a group of Oak Bay citizens asking the municipality to construct lawn bowling rinks to be paid for over a period of years was referred to the parks committee and the engineer for a report.

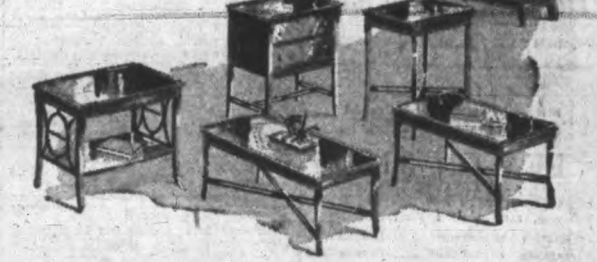

Reports were received by the committee on the school situation in Oak Bay, giving the number of schools in relation to population of various districts, and on the regulations covering subdivisions and the size of lots. Both reports will be dealt with by council.

Little possibility of relief from the new building regulations of the controller of construction was held out by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., in a letter to the council.

Engineer A. S. G. Musgrave reported street lights restored to normal illumination since the improvement in the power situation at Jordan River following recent rains.

"UNUSUAL"

That's one of the best and most apt of the many adjectives that are daily applied to the fine furniture shown in our upstairs Salon. And there's usually an example in our show window of what you may expect within.

If you have an old Piano which you would be glad to trade for a fine Chesterfield Suite, for instance, we'll be glad to make such an arrangement.

Nanaimo Busy Island Centre, Aids Wartime Shipbuilding

Following is one of a Canadian Press series outlining the impact of war on B.C. cities. It tells of Vancouver Island's second city. Written for the Canadian Press

By T. HARRY WILSON
Nanaimo Free Press

NANAIMO (CP)—Nanaimo in wartime provides some aspects common to all smaller towns under such conditions, but in others it differs materially.

A garrison community, there are uniforms in abundance on the narrow streets. While the one-familiar motorist touring the island is almost non-existent, war conditions have created a great increase in traffic to other points, straining transportation and safe services to the utmost.

Only two war industries are visible—a wooden shipbuilding yard (new) and an engineering plant (enlarged) engaged in making accessories for steel cargo vessels built in neighboring ports.

But Nanaimo is the heart of an even greater war industry, almost overlooked as such by the citizens themselves. It is the centre of a great bituminous coal-producing area from which last year, despite many obstacles, 407,000 tons were produced. All but 17,000 tons of this came from the two operating collieries south of the city controlled by Canadian Collieries Ltd.

However, the industry is carried on some distance from the city and were it not for whistles of locomotives drawing long, heavily-laden trains to the coal wharf from the mines, the visitor might never realize such operations are in progress.

The war industries here are not suited to the employment of many women, but there has been an enormous increase in the number of girls employed in offices and stores.

Garrison conditions are almost entirely responsible for the acute housing situation which is, however, of fluctuating character. Efforts to gain governmental intervention regarding housing have been unsuccessful. Rent control was invoked at an early stage and rents for the available accommodation are considered moderate. A national housing registry office is operated for the benefit of newcomers.

Contribution of Nanaimo and district to the armed forces has been exemplary. While the area has not produced another Raymond Collishaw (flying ace of the last war and an important senior officer of the R.A.F. in this), the air service has been particularly popular.

Nanaimo soldiers have fought on every front, and an exceptional response was given to the navy's appeal to a seaport whose harbor once reflected the sailing ships of many lands. Some families have representatives in every arm of the services.

May Ask Stores To Close Early To Aid Carriers

Representatives of Victoria's transportation committee will approach the city's two main department stores and the Parliament Buildings to see if those units will close an hour earlier if staggered hours are required to meet the public carrier problem.

Ald. W. L. Morgan and Inspector Walter Calvert were named delegates to interview those groups, while Charles Chivers, president of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, agreed to take the question up with shipyard unions.

The action was taken following statements by S. Sigmundson, regional transit controller for B.C., to the effect Victoria's transportation systems are dangerously near the saturation point during peak hours and may reach it when bad weather and vanishing gasoline coupons force added crowds to street cars and buses.

Mr. Sigmundson described the condition in Vancouver which had necessitated staggering hours in stores and industries, saying by that means an overall increase of 37 per cent in the number of persons carried since March, 1942, had resulted in a net 6 per cent increase only in peak hours.

Conditions here, he said, had not yet reached the point where staggering was necessary. At times, people were left in the street by trams and buses, but were seldom passed up by more than two cars.

PREPAREDNESS URGED

He urged the committee to have plans ready to meet the emergency if the saturation point was reached with the coming of bad weather. There was definite need shown in a chart of present carrying peaks for improvement in loadings, he said. Those charts showed 1,000 more passengers could be carried between 4 and 5 without hitting the peak from 5.30 to 6.

He suggested the Parliament Buildings, two major stores and

'Slightly Dangerous' Stars Turner, Young

Lana Turner mixes sodas blindfolded and figures in adventures ranging from an amnesia masquerade to a hectic romance with Robert Young in M-G-M's "Slightly Dangerous," now at the York Theatre. The picture, made for laughs, will keep you well entertained for there is never a dull moment.

Miss Turner plays the part of a soda clerk in a department store. She tires of her humdrum existence, leaves a suicide note, poses as an amnesia victim and long-lost daughter of a millionaire. Young, the new store manager, is blamed for the "suicide." He sets out to find her and save his job. Complication follows upon complication until the climax finds the two principals madly in love.

Hilarious Blondie Comes to Dominion

The Bumsteeds, America's first family of fun, may not be able to manage their own social or business affairs so well, but when it comes to providing entertainment with uproarious entertainment, they always manage to come out on top. And their latest Columbia film, "It's a Great Life," is no exception!

As a matter of fact, the hilarious "Blondie" which opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre is by all odds one of the lightest, gayest comedies this reviewer has seen in a long time. Hugh Herbert is added to the cast of familiar characters.

6 New Song Hits In 'Cabin in Sky'

Six songs are used in M-G-M's film version of "Cabin in the Sky," now at the Cadet Theatre. They are "Cabin in the Sky," sung by Ethel Waters, "Rochester" and chorus; "Little Black Sheep," sung by Hall Johnson choir; "Happiness Is Just a Thing Called Joe," sung by Miss Waters; "Taking a Chance on Love," sung by Miss Waters; "Consequences," sung by Lena Horne and "Rochester"; "Honey in the Honeycomb," sung by Miss Horne and Miss Waters.

Ty Power Stars In Atlas Feature

You'll find thrills above, below and across the Atlantic in "Crash Dive," the thrilling new technical hit that opened today at the Atlas Theatre.

Out of a sea of flame with danger and thrills, this film bursts forth, hailed as the great action picture of the year... and the war! Starring Tyrone Power, this is the first picture of Uncle Sam's fighting submarines, and their story is one of intense action all the way.

City Club Joins in Sponsoring National Hard-of-Hearing Week

On the occasion of National Hearing Week, now in progress, the Victoria Club of the Hard-of-Hearing has sponsored several events to emphasize to the public that no one need be handicapped by deafness.

Tuesday night members of the club met with representatives of the Greater Victoria school boards at the Hard-of-Hearing clubrooms 1416 Douglas Street. Sound motion pictures showing incipient cases of deafness were presented.

F. G. Mulliner, chairman of the Victoria School Board, presided, while the address of the evening was given by Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor, and chairman of the rehabilitation committee of the club.

Emphasizing the importance of eliminating deafness suffered by men returning home from the war fronts, Mr. Shaw said: "This week, which is known as National Hearing Week, should bring to our attention a particular branch of rehabilitation work that must be undertaken, but of which we hear very little—the rehabilitation of our soldiers who suffer from loss of hearing."

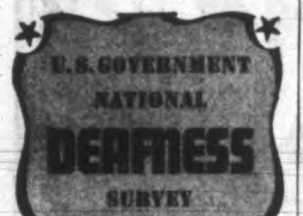

He said authorities should be giving serious thought to the problem since many men will find they will be unable to fill their former jobs because of deafness.

Mr. Shaw described hearing devices now available but said they must be fitted to the individual requirements.

hearing of school children by means of recorded voices reading numbers. The intensity of the sound is gradually and uniformly decreased.

Miss Rita Carveth, president of the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing, said the aims of the club were to do away with inferiority sometimes caused by deafness, to persuade employers that deaf employees with hearing aids were as efficient as those with normal hearing, to prevent deafness in young children and to promote social activities for persons suffering from hearing ailments.

MAYOR PRAISES CLUB

"I am very glad to see such sustained and progressive work by the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing for the deafened individual," Mayor Andrew McGavin said in a statement of congratulation.

"It is very gratifying to think that during these times of stress the members of this club can still find time to continue their educational and social activities."

"I trust that their broad program of aid in the re-establishment of soldiers, sailors and airmen suffering from deafness through their war services will be of great benefit. They are to be congratulated on their endeavors."

Full House Cheers Dramatic Soprano

Seated on a specially constructed ash-green dais, Marjorie Lawrence, dramatic soprano from the Metropolitan Opera House, projected not only a powerful and exceptionally versatile voice, but also a winning personality across the footlights of the Royal Victoria Theatre to an appreciative capacity audience at last night's concert—first of Hilker's attractions for the opening musical season.

Wearing a white satin and sequin gown, with a single cerise orchid at her wrist, the Australian-born singer graciously shared the enthusiastic ovation she received with her brilliant young accompanist, Gordon Manley of Vancouver.

The intensely dramatic quality of the recitative and aria of Nitoris, from Handel's "Belshazzar," which opened the program, was a perfect vehicle for Miss Lawrence's expressive personality, but it was her second group of Schubert lieder that really won her audience.

In the first of these, "Der Erlkönig," the singer took the dual role of father and son, and the ease with which she changed the tone of her voice during the conversation piece testified to her fluent ability and control. It also gave her plenty of scope in range—Miss Lawrence's vocal field

Just one more week remains to get Christmas parcels in the mail for the man or woman in uniform overseas.

Victorians have been busy on their navy, army and air force packages for several weeks and a fair proportion has already been posted.

In many Victoria kitchens, candies and cakes have been made, mother or wife or sister ignoring sugar and butter rationing to make a little extra for the man far away. The fact that the family has to do without butter or sugar to make up worries no one at all.

Much care must be taken in packing perishable foods. The post office says they must not be sent.

Victoria post office officials said today they could not estimate how many parcels are going out of this city for fighting men and women overseas.

This year parcels are going to a variety of fronts—Great Britain, the same as for the last four being much greater than the average soprano.

The even, restrained lyricism of "Der Lindenbaum" was followed by Schubert's familiar "Ungeud" (known to many as "This Is My Heart"), which she sang with spiritual exuberance and joyousness.

The Bach-Gounod prayer, "Ave Maria," preceding the rollicking Spanish song "El Vito" by Joaquin Nin, showed Miss Lawrence's dramatic talent as she turned quickly from the ethereal quality of the former to the earthy peasantry of the latter. This group closed with Harriet Ware's "This Day Is Mine."

In the role of Brunhilde, and as blonde as a Nordic goddess herself, Miss Lawrence scored an outstanding success in her final presentation from Wagner's "Gotterdammerung."

It was in her encores that the artist really convinced the audience of her versatility. She sang several Scotch folksongs "in tribute to those of Scottish origin in Victoria," "Britannia Rules the Waves," and "Waltzing Matilda" for the Australian and New Zealand air force men who had preceded her with a bouquet earlier in the program.

Gordon Manley, who is home in B.C. for the first time in five years since he went to New York to study, showed exceptional concert ability in his own right, as well as proving an understanding and capable accompanist.

With a distinct tendency to piano works in modern idiom, Mr. Manley presented two groups, the lovely Brahms' Rhapsodie, Opus 79, No. 2, and an amusing Prokofiev "Gavotta"—F sharp minor.

Two preludes by the contemporary Russian composer, Shostakovich, were played with sparkle and cleanliness. His mature interpretation of Scriabin's Etude in D sharp minor, a composition richly invested with unusual chords, was clipped and compact, an entirely creditable addition to Miss Lawrence's vivid presentation.

More than one parcel, too, is destined for the Solomon Islands and other destinations in the South Pacific, for it is surprising the number of Victorians who have relatives and friends fighting there with U.S. forces.

Many Pay Tribute To R. L. Pocock

R. L. Pocock, for 36 years with the Daily Colonist, was honored in death Wednesday when friends and colleagues attended funeral service for him in Hayward's chapel. Dean Spencer Elliott of Christ Church Cathedral officiated.

"O God Our Help in Ages Past" and "Abide With Me" were the hymns sung by members of the congregation, who filled the chapel. Employees of the Colonist and the Times attended, as did newspapermen from Vancouver and government and civic workers who had known Mr. Pocock through many years.

As on the day before during the funeral of J. L. Tait, managing-director of the Colonist, the blinds on business office and editorial rooms of the pioneer newspaper were drawn in tribute to the memory of two popular employees.

Honorary pallbearers were: Harry Buckle Sr., A. T. Stewart, H. S. Graves, R. A. Gurney, E. P. Johnston, D. H. Green, H. Pickup.

Hard Fall Ended Selkirk's Pursuit of Wild Goat

After Alexander Selkirk's shoes wore out, he went barefoot. Running about on the rocky part of the island hurt him at first, but in time the soles of his feet grew so tough that he did not miss shoes at all.

Painfully he crawled back to the hut where he slept.

One day he came to harm through chasing a goat. He caught hold of it just as it reached the edge of a cliff. Then man and beast fell to the ground below. We are not told just how far they fell, but Selkirk was knocked senseless.

At last he became awake enough to notice that the goat lay dead beneath him. He tried to get up, but without success. For 24 hours he remained at the spot, then painfully crawled back to his sleeping hut. Ten days later he was able to stroll about the island again.

During his spare time, Selkirk often went to the seashore in the hope that he might catch sight of a sail on the horizon. Great was his joy when a British vessel came — four years and four months after he had reached the island. Capt. Rogers was in command of the ship, and the pilot was William Dampier.

Selkirk greeted the visitors and fed them with some of the crawfish he had gathered. He also proved his skill in running by chasing a wild goat and capturing it before their eyes.

Rogers and his men camped on the island for 12 days. But bit by bit, they heard Selkirk's story. It was hard to understand him at first, because he spoke in "half-words," but his speech improved as time went on.

After returning to Great Britain, Selkirk stayed there a few years. Then he went back to sea. He died at the age of 45, while he was master's mate aboard a vessel called the Weymouth.

The story of "Robinson Crusoe" was written around Selkirk's adventures, but many changes were made. Defoe said that the island where his hero lived was near the northern end of South America, but Selkirk's island was in the South Pacific.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix: I am a man 60 years old, active, in the best of health, have a good home and no children. Since my wife died, three years ago, I have lived alone, doing my own cooking and housework.

Lately, at church, I have met a middle-aged widow. She has a small income and lives in a rented room. She seems easy to get along with, is of the domestic type and likes to putter around the kitchen and garden. She is miserable cooped up in a rented room and she suggests that she come and keep house for me. She thinks we would have companionship and live a happier life.

So far as I am concerned romance and marriage are out. I made that clear to her and she is satisfied. The arrangement looks good except for the question of propriety. What are your views?

WIDOWER.

HAZARDOUS TO WIFE AWAY WIDOW'S TEARS

Answer: I think you must be about six years old instead of 60 if you don't see that the widow has designs upon you, and that before you know it you will be walking up the church aisle with her. Some day you will find her weeping and she will sob out "tha world is so un-un-kind to say the non-horrid things about her livin' with you without being mar-married, when everybody knows how noble and good you are, and that she can't help it if she has fallen in love with you." And by the time you have comforted her she will have landed you in a second marriage. Wiping away a widow's tears is the most hazardous occupation in which a man ever engages.

But suppose the widow has marked you for her own? Maybe it is a dispensation of Providence in your behalf without your knowing it. Certainly if she is all you say she is, domestic and amiable and good company, she will brighten up your home and make you more comfortable than you are now.
